Orange City rewards good citizens

ORANGE CITY – The City of Orange City is set to recognize people who go above and beyond for their community with the Good Citizenship Award Program.

The Good Citizenship Award Program, which stemmed from a suggestion by Council Member Alex Tiamson, aims to acknowledge those who volunteer in various ways to make Orange City a better place to live, work, play or learn.

Anyone can nominate an individual, couple, or group that meets at least one of the following criteria:

- Demonstrated exceptional volunteer service that shows a dedication to making Orange City a great place to live, work, play or learn.
- Made a positive difference in a fellow citizen's life or has demonstrated care and concern for Orange City and its residents.
- Worked with or organized other individuals to solve a problem in Orange City or has a mission to better Orange City in a positive way.
- Displayed the qualities of honesty, integrity & service and is an example to Orange City residents.

Nominations will be accepted throughout the year and reviewed and selected quarterly by the City Council. Winners will be recognized at a reception which will be held before a Council Meeting.
